Happy

Times to Remember

College life is as varied as the students who live it: the sophomores, though experienced academic ways, are at times assured at times doubtful, but never without a degree of self-reliance and hope; the freshmen show confidence in their new endeavor, even though not always about purpose, scope, or goal. In the effort to attain that mysterious something called education, we study, we participate, we work and play. No one of these things is education; it is the interplay of them all. And the means to this desirable goal constitute those "times to remember," these "times"—serious or humorous—we have attempted to present in this 1956 Bagpipe.

The Sophomore Story

For many of the sophomores it has been two years of work, fun, trials, and tribulations all working together in this process of learning which prepares us for our place in the world today. We too entered as little, homesick, and "green" frosh, but now we have taken our places as upper classmen.

As freshmen, we took an active part in the extra-curricular activities and sports which the school offered. We witnessed two of the best Religious Emphasis Week programs ever presented at P. J. C. Also we enjoyed a most delightful Homecoming Day at this institution. Three members of our class—Ted Johnson, Bill Matheson, and Lorry King—were inducted into Phi Theta Kappa as freshmen. We cannot forget the success of our baseball team of which Jim Tompkins was a pitcher.

Early in October we chose Bill Matheson, president; Rex Wood, vice president; and Bill Webb, secretary-treasurer, as leaders for the sophomore class.

To represent our upper classmates as being the most outstanding students in our class, we selected Rex Wood and Lorry King as our choice.

As sophomores we witnessed a wonderful Junior-Senior banquet and Homecoming Day at P. J. C. June will mean graduation for some of the sophomores and departure from many of our friends. As we turn back the pages of time and think back over the days spent as sophomores at the college, we cannot help but say in the final analysis that it was great.

Sarah Hunter La Motte

There are some who go beyond their call of duty in the education of youth—more than just the classroom work. The Sophomore Class feels that honor is due where honor is. She has never faced us in a classroom in the role of an instructor, yet she has been more than a teacher. She has been a true friend, a counselor, and an asset all the years she has served as assistant registrar to P.J.C. As a token of our appreciation for all she has done for the students at this school, we humbly dedicate this our 1956 Bagpipe to our beloved friend—Mrs. Sarah Hunter LaMotte.

The Freshman Story

On September 5 came seventy-nine young, "green," scared-stiff, but eager-to-go freshmen who were embarking for the first time, the initial taste of college life. "Where is room 104?" "How do you get to the registrar's office?" "I am homesick a little bit." Yes, these were familiar sounds during the first two weeks for underclassmen. They learned quickly, though, and soon found their places among the student body at P. J. C. Of course, "Rat Week" will always linger in their memories.

Besides the classroom education, they learned what it was like living in the dormitory. In October the froshs named as their leaders for the year Tom Wharton, president; Jerry Wilson, vice-president; and Ben Fordham, secretary-treasurer.

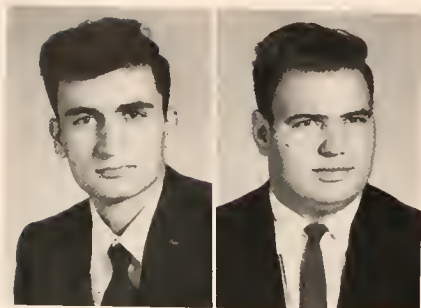

They added their share to the activities and sports. They selected Charles McDonald and Dennis Bullock as the best all-round students in the class. We believe that their year has been a fruitful one. Next year as sophs they will take over as upperclassmen to carry on the honored traditions of the school.

The men pictured on this page are probably the most sought after persons on the P.J.C. campus because almost all matters must pass through their offices. Mr. Croker, as Dean of Instruction, helps students with academic considerations — planning of courses and difficulties with subjects. Dean James deals closely with students at all times as he works to maintain the kind of discipline that is necessary to any orderly community. He is assisted by Deon Koesy whose special concern is dormitory life. These men, working closely with the president and faculty, guide the campus life.

Students encounter the members of the Business Staff every day. This familiarity and the fact that their work is that kind which is extremely important to the smooth functioning of campus life but is not always as readily apparent as that of the professors—these two factors cause us often not to recognize the real extent of the service rendered by these loyal workers. The registrar, financial secretary, and president's secretary make the administrative machinery run more smoothly. The excellent food prepared by our dietitians is the boast of the school and is recognized at once by visitors to the campus.

Kitchen Staff

An important element of any school is its cafeteria. Although little praise is ever given to those of the kitchen staff, we realize that without them we would never have received those fine meals at P. J. C. which we found to be the best.

Janitorial Staff

And, of course, no school, could function without its janitors, for it is these who keep our classrooms clean, our lawns green and cut, our shrubbery trimmed, and all the other things that go into making an attractive and comfortable campus.

Time

College is certainly a place to learn. From books—Yes. But perhaps true education should combine academic pursuits with the kind of practical application that one acquires through activities. Whether the activity is newspaper work, music, photography, or recreation, the experience and pleasure that a student acquires from the additional participation help to broaden his outlook and to develop a sense of group co-operation.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The Student Government is composed of the President of the Student Body, who must be a sophomore; the first Vice-President, who also must be a sophomore; the second vice president, who may be from any class; and the secretary-treasurer, who may be from any class. The president of the sophomore class and the president of the freshman class are members, representing their classes. The council meets weekly in order to discuss all affairs of the Student Body.

The purpose of the dormitory council is to promote good conduct in the dormitory. It is to maintain the best environment possible for the dormitory student. There has been set down certain rules which govern the dormitory which have to be enforced, therefore it is necessary to maintain this council to see that these rules are kept.

These members are appointed by the Student Council and have the responsibility of promoting student welfare in the living quarters. This council is made up of two monitors Larry King and William E. Webb. The other members are Alex McQueen, Eddie Barnette, Ivo Wortman, Walter Jolly, Earl Jackson and David Bullard.

The 1955-56 school year proved to be one of the best for perhaps the school's most active organization, of which every student is a member — that of the Student Christian Association. Friday morning business meetings, student devotional program on Wednesday, and the midweek prayer service on Wednesday evenings, and the special programs headed the agenda of the group which is in charge of the religious activities at P. J. C. An evangelistic team from Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Va., presented a fun night and an inspiration program during the first semester, while Dr. Warner L. Hall brought a series of special services during Religious Emphasis Week during the second semester. Officers are Larry King, president; Robert Talar, vice-president; Frank Jeffrey, secretary-treasurer; and Sheldon Koesy, adviser.

Under the editorship of Larry King, the Sandspur, the college newspaper, has endeavored this year to keep the student body informed of all school activities, news of the students and faculty, alumni news, items of interest in the community, and of student life in general. The new editorial policy has given special attention to the importance of student opinion. This has been achieved through editorials, letters to the editor, and opinion poles. A conscientious effort has been made also to improve the journalistic quality of the publication. For the first time this year, the Sandspur was entered in the Columbia Scholastic Press Association contest for journalistic standing among the colleges of the nation.

The Library Club is a new organization on the P. J. C. campus. Its purpose is to make the college library more meaningful to campus life by bringing to the attention of the student body new books

PHI THETA KAPPA

M. S. Croker, Adviser

Phi Theta Kappa is a national junior college honorary scholastic fraternity. Membership is restricted to the upper five per cent of the student body. To be elected to membership, a student must meet the scholastic requirements, must be carrying at least fifteen hours of academic work and must have proved himself a constructive and responsible citizen.

The local chapter, Zeta Upsilon, was chartered in January, 1949 and is under the guidance of Dean M. S. Croker. In April, 1955, Larry King, Theodore Johnson, and William N. Matheson were initiated into the fraternity and this year were elected president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer respectively. At the end of the first semester, Freshmen Jo Ann Johnson, Charles E. McDonald, and Caesar Covelli were approved for membership by the fraternity.

VOLUNTARY FIRE DEPARTMENT

Under the leadership of Mr. Journey, the Voluntary Fire Department was organized. It is composed of students who wish training in the use of fire fighting equipment and are willing to help promote fire prevention.

They also worked with the voluntary fire department of Maxton, North Carolina and were a valuable aid to the department. One of their most outstanding performances was turned in the night the Marshall James cotton warehouse burned. Many bails of cotton were lost but, had it not been for these boys, many more would have been. For their service in fighting this fire, they received a letter of recommendation from the Maxton Fire Chief.

VETERANS' CLUB

The Veterans Club was organized at the beginning of the first semester and Earl Bradley was elected President. During this year it has been holding weekly meetings and from time to time has participated in different social activities. The Veterans' Club has also had suppers at which the veterans themselves were both cooks and dish washers. The faculty advisors are Mr. Rarig and Mr. Clifton. They have been of great help in the organization of this club. The veterans have enjoyed this organization as it has given them a chance to meet and tell of how each one won the war. These, the old "has beens" of the service will never be forgotten.

THE BEST

SOPHOMORES

The purpose of this section is to bring recognition to outstanding students who show qualities of character, leadership, scholarship, and general ability. A recognition of these qualities has led the student body in a special election to single out two sophomores and two freshmen to represent that proper blend of those qualities that go to make a good student and a desirable citizen. The sophomores were chosen for performance both last year and this year.

REX WOOD

A student from Rock Hill, Rex Wood is in his second year at P. J. C. His activities include the Student Christian Association, Vets' Club, secretary of the sophomore class, president of the Sunday school class, business manager of the Bagpipe, and artist for the Sandspur. Rex plans to major in Business Administration and will go to the University of N. C. next year.

LARRY KING

This marks the second time that Larry King has been chosen for the "Best" section honor, having been chosen also in his freshman year. His hometown is Durham. He plans to major in history, to do religious-education work, and to go to Davidson. Among his honors and activities are editor of the Sandspur, president of the S. C. A., Phi Theta Kappa president, freshman scholarship medal, Bagpipe, and student assistant in the dormitory.

AT P. J. C.

FRESHMEN

Understandably, the choice of freshman "bests" was more difficult, since at the time of election they had to be judged on the basis of a short-time acquaintance. However, through their performance throughout the first semester, both have proved the choice a good one.

DENNIS BULLOCK

Dennis Bullock hails from Greenville, N. C. He is a pre-ministerial student and hopes to attend Davidson. During his first semester at P. J. C. Dennis has been a Dean's List student and has taken an interest in the Student Christian Association, the Glee Club, the Library Committee, and the Dramatics Club.

CHARLES McDONALD

A scholar-athlete, Charles McDonald comes from Lillington High School. There he was salutatorian, the "best all round" and "most athletic" student. At P.J.C. Charles plays both basketball and baseball and holds an athletic scholarship. Besides participating in athletics he maintains a Dean's List average. Charles plans to go to State College for a program in forestry.

ATHLETICS AT P. J. C.

Athletics at Presbyterian Junior College has come up in standings. The college has given many scholarships to promising young athletes. Many boys who have not received scholarships also play sports. The Athletic Association invited all students who were eligible to participate.

Baseball has been one of P. J. C.'s strong points. They placed second in North Carolina's Junior College Conference last season. The basketball team is well rounded and placed third in the Junior College Conference Tournament at Wilmington.

We are proud of the team's record. As the annual goes to press, baseball has not yet begun, but we are all expecting another great season similar to last year's.

Great Times

Basketball is in the spot light. The Scotties have made much progress this season and have made a name for themselves in the Junior College Conference. This year they have rendered themselves a potential threat to every opponent played. The Scottie's have an 88 point average with many games exceeding 100. This is the first time this has happened.

Presbyterian Jr. College has spotlighted quite a few outstanding players. Many of the players had outstanding records of achievements in athletics while in high school, and they continue to do so in college.

The games in which the Scotties played have been a running game with the fast break employed, the scoring being fast and the pace set by the cagers, furious.

The spectators at the games have expressed that they had rather watch this kind of game than one of a slower more deliberate type of ball club, meaning the Scottie's have played outstanding ball and also given the spectators their money's worth.

As far school spirit, I do not think that many high school or colleges can boast the spirit that is displayed at the games. The Scotties do not have cheerleaders but they still bring the roof down without them. The student body is behind the team 100% and you can sure tell it when they are—you can also tell it when they are not. The tempo picks up in the players once the stands are behind the players.

The reserve strength on the bench is such that the coach is not afraid to substitute a boy because of fear of losing a game.

BASKETBALL

The Jr. Varsity also shows plenty of hustle and spirit on the hardwood. This gives the coach a chance to get a look at all of his material and maybe move a prospect up to the varsity ranks.

At the change of the semester several new players have showed up on the scene. These new boys sure have helped the team and have showed a lot of spirit and hustle.

P. J. C. has a fine well-rounded team and the prospects look very bright.

As the annual goes to press, the record of the baseball season cannot be given in full. Since the baseball season comes in the spring, only some comments on the fall practice session can be given here, along with a few speculations on possible future achievements.

The team played three practice games in the fall and showed promise of another great season such as the one it had lost spring (1955). The pitching section has many bright prospects such as Bruce Flip-pin and Jimmy Tompkins. The infield has some promising candidates as does the outfield.

In the spring new faces will appear on the diomand, and the club should even better its record of last year—runner-up in the Junior College Conference. Good luck, Scotties, in the '56 baseball season.

The importance of good batting is emphasized here by Tommy Hurt.

A fall afternoon provides ideal weather for these members of the P. J. C. baseball team for warmup purposes.

Coach McMillan pauses during practice to pose with players Walter Polly, Jerry Wilson, and Tommy Hurt.

BLOCK "P" CLUB

Eddie Barnette
President

The Block "P" Club, monogram club for Presbyterian Junior College athletes, had its origin in 1929, the year of the founding of the college. The purpose of the club is to bring into the limelight those students who have been active in athletics and have shown good sportsmanship. Officers for this year are Eddie Barnette, president; Walter Jolly, vice-president; and Charles McDonald, secretary-treasurer.

NIGHT CLASSES

At the beginning of the second semester January, 1951, night classes in college subjects were begun in Lumberton at the request of leaders in the Veterans' Division of the Lumberton High School. On April 9, 1951, a similar program was begun in Fairmont at the request of a group there. Night classes are also conducted on the college campus in Maxton.

The purpose of the night classes is to enable adults to pursue a college program or to audit courses for their practical value. The courses are primarily of a business nature; however Bible; Southern history, sociology, and other liberal arts courses are prominent also.
